

A photograph of three people standing outdoors on a paved walkway with a metal railing. On the left, a man with dark hair and a beard, wearing a light blue dress shirt and a dark tie, is seen from the back, looking towards the other two people. In the center, a bald man with a friendly smile wears a blue and white plaid button-down shirt and olive green pants. On the right, a woman with long, curly brown hair is smiling, wearing a dark navy blue cardigan over a light blue top and blue jeans. The background features lush green trees and a blurred view of a city building.
